The Delineator

Each twelve months offers the well dressed woman of the country a wonderful library of ideas in woman's dress. It is also full of practical home ideas that will aid the woman who needs to make a dollar go as far as possible. The constant aim of the editors is to have the delineator suit itself in its various departments to every range of purse.

No dress idea is inserted except after a discussion between artists and experts in each line. It will prove interesting to the thoughtful readers of the Delineator thus to learn of the scrutinizing care that is expended in the selection of the material to be used. While it is being prepared there is a discussion over each paragraph throughout its pages. For instance, the description of a pattern undergoes eight revisions before being printed. This thoroughness of detail has been now proving its merit to the women of the land for over twenty-seven years. What is the result?

The Delineator is found in five hundred thousand homes each month. It is woman's indispensable magazine. Single copies for sale and subscriptions taken by

MISS'NARY ALLIANCE CONVENT'N

THE WORK GOING ON IN THE FRIENDS' CHURCH THIS WEEK

The Sermon of Rev. A E. Funk on the Need of Jesus in the Church, the Home, and the Life.

The opening sermon of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Convention, now being held in this city, was preached last night in the Friends' church by Rev. A. E. Funk, of New York.

The sermon was worthy of a larger audience, and was listened to with close attention by those who heard it. His text was from Revelation 1:13, especially the words, "the Son of Man," and he said the seven letters to the churches in the chapters following explain this passage. This one "in the midst" is Jesus, whose place is in the midst of the churches. You will notice he has a place in the midst of all these churches until the last one, the church of Laodicea, where we find Him standing on the outside. "Behold I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him and he with Me." We believe that these seven churches, while seven real churches in Asia at the time of this writing, are types of the seven periods in this dispensation; and some think that we are now on the very verge of the Laodicean church, if not getting into it. If there is any church where Christ is not in the midst, that church is in a most dangerous condition. And as in the church, so also in the family, the place of the Son of Man is in the midst—the One supreme and in full control, shaping our life and living it by the Holy Spirit dwelling and abiding in us.

"Notice how complete a description of Him there is here—His head, His hair, His eyes, His feet, His dress, His voice—showing us that this is the very same Jesus that had lived among men, now speaking to us through the Word of God and the Holy Spirit." "Clothed with a garment down to his feet, and girded with a golden girdle." This has reference to righteousness, for as we read in Isaiah 6:10, "He hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, He hath covered me with the robe of righteousness." This is His righteousness and imparted righteousness apart from Him. We read of imputed righteousness and imparted righteousness, and we need also practical righteousness. We need to so put on the righteousness of Jesus Christ that we live righteous lives. The robe here signifies royalty, and the girdle means service. We are called to reign with Him, and he also girded Himself and washed the disciples' feet in humblest service, and tells us to do the same. So we are to wear both the robe of royalty and the girdle of service. We are to serve now and reign when He comes.

"Head and hair white like wool, as white as snow." As we have Christ living in us we shall live above the world, the flesh and the devil, not having the quantity of His purity, but the quality of His purity. This can only be by His living in us, and living out His purity through us.

"His eyes is as flame of fire" Jesus in His divine could read the thoughts in the hearts of men. So He looked us through today. Has He not looked you through and seen your life and shown it to yourself? If I am right with God I want Him to read me through and reveal me to myself, that I may let Him put me right and keep me right. If there is a consciousness that you do not want Him to look through you it is an evidence that you are not where you ought to be. We should let God inspect our whole being, cleanse it, and bring in His righteousness. "His feet like fire that burned in a furnace." Suffering, "His voice as the sound of many waters." God speaks to us in a still small voice, but if we do not hear He must speak more loudly, even with a rod. The object of all this is that Jesus may get into his place "in the midst"

"Out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged word." This is the Word of God, Hebrews 4:12. God wants to break people up, not that He would deal hardly with us, but He wants to get us right. We are all wrong, and must learn that we are a complete failure; must be crucified with Christ—dead that He may live in us

This morning Rev. W. W. Simpson gave an interesting address on the religion of Tibetans, and mission work among them. Among other things he said that the great Lama of Tibet is the chief of a number of lamas who are believed to be incarnations of Buddha. When this great Lama, the supreme incarnation of Buddha dies, his spirit is supposed to enter the body of some infant born at about that time. The magicians begin their black art investigations to determine in what part of the country the infant is. When they have learned the locality, and selected a number of boys, now several years old, among whom the great Lama is to be found, they put them in a room with the bowl from which the former Lama ate, and other of his utensils, mixing them whith others of like appearance. The boy who selects the right ones and says: "These are mine, which I have always used," is the great Lama, the living Buddha. There are three religious orders, the living Buddhas, the lamas and the common priests. One of their formula of worship is, "Unto Buddha I come for salvation; unto the Buddda classics I come for salvation; unto Buddha priests have I come for salvation."

HE IS WANTED IN TENNESSEE.

THE EXTRADITION OF BAXTER SHEMWELL TO BE ARGUED.

Governor Russell will Hear the Case Next Monday—Charged With Fraudulently Obtaining $4,500.

Raleigh Morning Post.

Next Monday Governor Russell will hear counsel on the question of honoring the requisition from the governor of Tennessee for the extradition of Baxter Shemwell, of Asheville, who is wanted in Knoxville, Tenn., on the charge of having defrauded the National Bank of that place out of $10,000.

Ex-Judge Spencer B. Adams, counsel for Shemwell, was here yesterday to see the Governor in his client's behalf. Shemwell is also represented by Locke Craig, of Asheville and Frank Robbins, of Lexington. The Bank of Knoxville is also represented by counsel.

Governor Russell stated that he would hear both sides before honoring the extradition papers, and Monday was the day agreed upon for counsel to state the contentions of their clients

Mr. Shemwell is a man of wealth He owns a large drug store and is engaged in the manufacturing business. Several years ago he killed Dr. Payne of Lexington and was acquitted on the grounds of self defense.

The case in which he is connected at present is an interesting one. The Bank of Knoxville charges that Mr. Shemwell secured the payment of a note by fraud, and this allegation is stubbornly denied by him. The facts in the case, as stated here yesterday, are these: It seems that Mr. Shemwell is engaged in the manufacture of bed springs, and he claims to have sold the exclusive right to sell the springs in certain territory in Missouri. A Mr. Maynard gave a note for $10,000 for this privilege, which was secured by a large tract of land, so it is alleged. The note purports to have been credited with payments amounting to $5,500.

Not very long since a man named Sorrell turned up in Knoxville and presented himself at the National Bank, inquiring for Mr. Shemwell. His story was that Mr. Shemwell had promised to meet him there that day. He said that the land given by Mr. Maynard as security for the note adjoined property of his own, and that he was anxious to purchase it. He left $500 with the bank stating that he had to go to Birmingham, Ala., on business, and requested that the bank take up the note at its face value in the event of the arrival of Shemwell Shemwell arrived the next day, and the bank promptly took up the note at its face value—$4,500. It is stated that Mr. Shemwell was given $1,000 cash $3,500 in New York exchange. Two or three days later Sorrell put in appearance at the bank. He was told by the bank people of the purchase of the note. Sorrel then told them that he had made purchases in Birmingham with the money he had brought to buy the land, and that he would have to go home and secure the desired amount. The bank people say that Sorrell disappearred a few minutes later, that he has never been seen since, and that he cannot be located.

The Knoxville bank contends also that Sorrell was a dummy, and that no such man as Maynard exists. The whole transaction is alleged to be one of fraud.

The contention of Mr. Shemwell will be, so it is said, that the bank people have not made a sufficient examination and investigation to negative the transaction.

The case was to have come up before Judge Stevens today on a writ of habeas corpus, but has been postponed pending a decision by the governor.

RYAN'S LATEST MOVE.

Special Masters Appointed by Judge Waddill.

Norfolk, Va., March 21--Judge Waddill today appointed Hon. Geo. E. Bowden, clerk of the court, and Hon. R. T. Thorpe, special masters to take evidence in the injunction proceedings of Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, against John Skelton, Williams, et als.

It will be remembered that Judge Waddill some time since refused to restrain the defendants from proceeding with the consolidation of other roads with the Seaboard Air Line system, and the testimony to be taken by the special masters, who will require about sixty days to complete their work, and are empowered to compel attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, etc., will be used in rendering a final decision upon the supplemented and amended bill of the plaintiff which disputes the legality of the consolidation.

HEAVY FIGHTING GOING ON.

PLUMMER CHECKED IN HIS MARCH TO THE RELIEF OF MAFEKING

A Confused Account of Fighting at Lobatsi in Which Boers Took Prisoners.

London, March 22—The report from Kroonstadt that the Boers had defeated British troops under Gatacre is not believed here. A despatch to the news from Springfontein Tuesday says that Gatacre and all are well. The last advices also placed Gatacre thirty miles north of Bethulie, where the Boer report shows great loss inflicted. The reports of skirmishing at Lobatsi cause much anxiety. While there has apparently been no serious loss suffered by Plummer's force, his ability to reach Mafeking is doubted Further news is anxiously awaited, as six days have elapsed since the big engagement might have occurred

A despatch from Lobatsi of the sixteenth says that the Boers under the command of Snyman advanced in force from Mafeking toward Lobatsi. Further despatches from Lobatsi say that the Boers, who had been repulsed with loss, have again attacked and a British lieutenant was killed. The Boer account says the British fled. The Boers took four prisoners, fifteen cases of ammunition and a number of guns and horses.

Plummer's column marching to the relief of Mafeking is held in check at Lobatsi by a strong force of Boers Another Boer force is marching to aid in the attack on Plummer. A despatch from Lobatsi says that the British were almost surprised by the Boers and that heavy fighting is going on.

WARM TIMES IN RALEIGH.

The Question of an Auditorium Raising the Fighting Ire.

News and Observer:

It is very unfortunate that the auditorium question has caused some ill-feeling in the city. Yesterday afternoon, at a meeting of the committee on the auditorium, Mr. Frank Stronach was speaking about the necessity of an auditorium. It seems that somebody recently made insinuations about Mr. Stronach's advocacy of an auditorium, which he declared were false. He referred to what had been said about him and vigorously denounced those who had charged him with selfish motives. As he proceeded, standing almost in front of Mr. C. C. McDonald, that gentleman thinking Mr. Stronach was pointing at him and denouncing him, rose and replied to Mr. Stronach, and in a minute both gentlemen were on the point of a hand to hand encounter when friends separated them.

Mr. Stronach stated that he had not been talking to Mr. McDonald or about him, whereupon Mr. McDonald said that if Mr. Stronach disclaimed talking to or about him, he would apologize for resenting the remarks. This was done, the explanation and the apology were accepted, and the regretable incident was at an end. It was greatly regretted and was all due to a misunderstanding.

FIERCE RIVALRY OF NEIGHBORS.

We note with alarm the fierce rivalry existing between our neighbors Salisbury and Concord, as represented by the newspapers of each town. The discussion has reached so advanced a stage as to be dangerous. Citizens of the respective towns are said to be sitting up o' nights and following the illustrious example of Mrs. O'Shanter in nursing their wrath to keep it warm. We judge the smoldering volcano of wrath may brake forth any day into civil war, and, indeed, as is always the case at such times, it requires the utmost exertion of the cooler heads to hold in restraint the hot bloods. And now, like little Peterkin, let's ask what 'tis all about.

Dewey, the same man who has at various time caused a good deal of trouble to different people, including himself, is the cause. On his way South he necessarily had to pass through each of these places, and the jealousies and hot words and clinched fists have been caused by the dispute which has arisen as to which town was the recipient of the more honor from the smasher of Spanish junk. The blame for the fuss seems to rest upon Salisbury for having taunted her neighbor with the fact that the hero passed there first. To this Concord replied that if he had passed Salisbury first, he had gone by Concord last, which was much better. And so the trouble began, and the capillaceous appendages began to be whisked through the atmosphere. The next trump that Salisbury dropped from its sleeve was that Mrs. Dewey's husband had stopped there three and a quarter minutes, while he had rushed away from the City of Peace after staying but three minutes. This seemed to put the thing up to Concord pretty jam but she came to the emergency, and like Paul Jones and President Steyn, indicated that the fighting had only begun. Her return blow to Salisbury's last deliverance was a solar plexes one, to the effect that the Admiral had taken a chew of tobacco while at Concord and squirted a shot at the wart on the nose of a yaller dog that passed the car window, which certainly showed very plainly that he felt at home and was very comfortable. Again Salisbury came up to the scratch and proved that while in that ancient city Dewey was the target for a kodak fiend, showing that only great love and respect for the place could make him allow that. But Concord was not in the fight for fun nor for the purpose of being beaten, and she retorted through her excellent paper, the Standard, that at her depot Dewey was hardly noticed, anyhow, so accustomed were the depot gods to seeing distinguished personages, and that he attracted no attention there, while at Salisbury the crowd stood about and gazed in such a hayseed fashion that the seaman's nose had not fully recovered, when he reached Concord, from the upturn he gave it when in Salisbury, at the gaping crowd. Not having a suitable retort to off set this the Salisburians demanded proof, and Concord at once showed up more affidavits that the News and Observer used in clinching Spencer Blackburn.

This blow was too much for Salisbury and she is now recovering her wind and getting ready for the next and last struggle which she will begin as soon as possible. Concord is consuming itself with imitations of the cock's combrous clarion, little caring that the enemy may be preparing for a flank movement, which may catch her where the merchant of Venice said he had old Shylock.

TOO SLOW FOR BREWSTER.

The Honorable Eugene Velocity Brewster, some time ago a staunch Chicago platform democrat, and a hard and hearty worker for Mr. W. J. Bryan, in Brooklyn, has left the democratic party. He has not done this by lagging behind as the manner of some is, nor by sidetracking to the right as others do, nor still yet by switching to the left as has been known to occur. He has literally left it behind him, outrun it, and is still clipping along faster and faster in advance. Says he, "the party I will support is the socialistic democratic party. The fact is, I have gone faster than Mr. Bryan."

And while Brewster spins along at his momentum increasing pace, he looks behind pityingly at Col. Bryan's cumbrous gait, and intimates that he will never catch up. Hear the Aguinaldo of Brooklyn in his farewell letter: "Believe me, Mr. Bryan, I have the deepest respect and admiration for you personally, as have nearly all men, but I do hope you will sometime see the situation, and the only true remedy as clearly as we do, who have, as we think, gone more deeply into economics. With all your brilliancy and oratorical powers, you could soon bring the world to your feet."

And as he makes his lightning-like dash around the furthest bend in the road that puts him out of sight of Col. Bryan's ox cart, he kisses his hand jauntily down the road, and then sadly to his traveling companion, Mr. Debs, remarks: "His defeat is certain, but I don't wan't him to say that I did it. I know the plan, although I am not at liberty to say how I learned of it. The eastern democrats will send delegates to the national convention and prevent the entrance of contesting delegates, and then by a trick divide the convention and secure the nomination of Augustus Van Wyck."

No indeed, by the dear memory of Mr. Brewster's past loyalty, he should not be saddled with the blame of Col, Bryan's defeat. His legs were given him to run with and when he outruns Mr. Bryan he can't help it and should not be censured. Never! We shall stand forever for the exoneration of Brewster from all blame.

TO OPEN IN A BLAZE.

The Campaign to Begin With the Convention—Greensboro 17th.

The democratic campaign will open in a blaze this year right along with the adjournment of the convention on the 11th prox. Greensboro will be one of the first places struck, by the entire ticket. This morning the News and Observer says:

The usual course in North Carolina politics is for the state convention to nominate its candidates, elect campaign committees, and adjourn until the enthusiasm engendered by the convention has waned and then to open the campaign

The democrats will this year pursue a better course. This campaign will open on the eleventh of April, will be red hot on that day and be "still a-heating" every day until the polls close in August. It is expected that on Friday night after the state convention, as the delegates return to their homes, there will be impromptu or arranged ratification meetings in every town and village in the state.

State Chairman Simmons is now engaged in arranging an itinerary to begin on Monday after the state convention so that the candidates on the state ticket will be able to s eak to many voters within a week after their nomination. This is the proper way to begin the campaign, and the people will second this new way of keeping the ball rolling which the state convention sets in motion. The itinerary has not been fully completed yet, but the state chairman has arranged for speaking as follows:

Burlington, Monday, April 16th.
Winston, Tuesday, April 17th.
Greensboro, Tuesday night, April 17th.
Hickory, Wednesday, April 18th.

The itinerary will include Asheville, Murphy, Bryson City, Waynesville, Marion, Shelby, Charlotte, Fayetteville and Rocky Mount.

MAYBE FRESH NEGOTIATIONS.

Telegrams Have Been Passing Between Kruger and the Government.

Associated Press.

London, March 22, 4:12 a. m.—Several telegrams have passed between President Kruger and the British government, in addition to the Salisbury-Kruger correspondence already published. The Foreign Office received a dispatch from Pretoria yesterday. The contents of these communications cannot be obtained. So far as the military situation is concerned, there is practically no change. Lord Roberts is quickly making preparations for the next move. As necessary to a beginning Generals Gatacre and Brabant are swiftly moving from point to point in the southern districts of the Free State, dispersing or accepting the surrender of any remaining Boers, thus ensuring the safety of Lord Roberts' communications before starting toward Pretoria. A correspondent of The Daily News at Springfontien, describing these movements, says: "General Gatacre is sweeping through the country like a cyclone, with flying columns in all directions. His swiftness and strategy have proved of inestimable value to Lord Roberts."

The rebuilding of the railway bridge at Norval's Point will occupy two months. The temporary bridge will be completed in about 10 days. Meanwhile supplies are transported on an aerial tramway across the gap. These works necessarily delay the providing of supplies for the advance.

Lord Methuen's movements north of Kimberley are believed to be a prelude to the gathering of a column of 20,000 men with Kimberley as a base to strike eastward from Fourteen Streams into the Transvaal. The long and anxiously awaited news of the relief of Mafeking has not yet been received. Mr. Schreiner, the Cape Premier, has granted the request of mayor of Cape Town that a public holiday be proclaimed throughout the colony on the relief of Mafeking.

J. I. Bevry Loganton, Pa., writes I am willing to take my oath I that was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure entirely after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

MINING CAMP TRICKS.

One Instance Where a Scheme Worked the Wrong Way.

"There is a great deal that is out of the ordinary in mining," said Samuel Mott of Boise City, Ida., "although I think from personal experience it is probably more so in the relation than in the actual happening. In every mining camp I have known there have always been charges that those working a vein had gone through into the next claim in taking out the ore, and consequently were taking out what wasn't theirs. These claims it was always difficult to substantiate, for the reason that the offender, of course, would not allow the offended to enter his workings, and without a survey it would be impossible to make out a case. Every subterfuge and excuse possible was resorted to to get into a suspected mine.

"I remember one case in an apex of a vein suit, where the workings had been temporarily shut down and a man called 'Johnny Come Lately,' heavily armed, was on guard. The other side had tried again and again to get by 'Johnny,' but had always failed, when one man, who knew that 'Johnny' was an enthusiastic hunter, hired an acquaintance of his to stroll by with a gun over his arm and to engage 'Johnny' in a conversation about 'bar.' It worked to a charm, and while he was thus engrossed they managed to slip in and survey the mine.

"Then there was the case of the Last Chance against the Tyler. In this case the workings happened to run together, and the Last Chance people were working the same vein from underneath that the Tyler owners were working from on top. Knowing they would sooner or later break through, the Tyler people prepared smudge—that is, saturated cordwood that would give forth a tremendous smoke—which, they hoped, would drive the Last Chance people out of their mine. But when they finally set it off it went the other way and made the Tyler workings absolutely untenable. Indeed three of the miners were overcome and were rescued only with great difficulty."—New York Tribune.

WOULDN'T INTRODUCE HIM.

The Young Woman Rather Thought She Needed the Introduction.

A young man with a beetling brow and a nice new necktie entered a law office in one of the big down town office buildings and inquired for a member of the firm, a Mr. Younger, whose name he pronounced with strict regard for the rules of orthoepy.

"Is Mr. Young-er in?" he asked of the young woman stenographer, with whom he seemed to be acquainted.

"You mean Mr. Youn-ger?" she replied, pronouncing the "g" hard.

"Can it be he pronounces it that way?" asked the caller, feigning surprise. "Of course it's his privilege to pronounce it as he chooses; there's no set rule for pronouncing names. But you know Y-o-u-n-g-e-r doesn't spell Youn-ger, but Young-er."

"No, I didn't know it," she answered as one who doesn't care. "But here he comes now. That's him going into his private office."

"Excuse me, but that's not him."

"No? Pray, who is it then?"

"It's he."

They stared at each other for ten seconds, and then the young man said: "Will you introduce me to Mr. Younger?"

"No!" she retorted. "Since you seem to know so much more about him than I do, I think you'd better introduce me."

There was an ominous click in the rattle of the typewriter as the young man entered the private office and presented his card.—Chicago Chronicle.

Mint Mark Collections.

The mint mark collection is the latest thing in the line of numismatics. It is the fad of the specialist and has little attraction for the amateur. The object is to secure complete sets of perfect specimens of all the coins issued from the different mints.

A great many people are scarcely aware that there is any way to distinguish the coins issued from the different mints. They may not have noticed the small "S" or "CC" beneath the eagle or under the wreath, and showing that the piece was coined at San Francisco or Carson City, or if it bears an "O" at New Orleans. And they may or may not know that if it has no mint mark it comes from the "mother mint" at Philadelphia. But the mint mark collector will see these little letters in an instant and is very apt to know just how many dimes, quarters, dollars or half dollars were turned out at any of the mints during any year since 1794.—Minneapolis Journal.

A Cat's Long Jump.

How far can a cat jump without hurting itself was partly exemplified in Brooklyn the other night. A pretty white cat ran up a tree to get away from a dog and at last crawled out on a small branch at least 60 feet above the ground. The branch was not much more than a twig, and the cat could not turn around. She sat up there on the swaying limb and meowed. At last the twig broke, and down came the cat. She alighted on the ground on her feet, looked around for a moment and then bounded away; which shows that a 60 foot drop does not hurt a Brooklyn cat, whatever it might do to cats of other places.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A THOUSAND TONGUES.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphi, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. Kings' New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

SOMETHING FROM CHARLOTTE

Lacy to Speak—A New Laundry—Mr. Alexander Worth $150,000.

Charlotte, March 21—The third steam laundry for Charlotte will begin turning out work probably this week. This company is headed by Mr. L. Leon, of Charlotte. Their equipment, according to the manufacturer from whom the machinery was bought, will be among the most modern in the south, costing $5,000.

Hon. B. R. Lacy has been persuaded to lecture on the campaign issues in Charlotte next Friday night. Mr. Lacy was expected to speak last week but preferred to postpone the date. Prof. Abernethy of Ruthe ford College, will also be present and discuss the issues.

Mrs. J. H. McGuin, whose cook was carried to the pest house with smallpox last week, is now a suspect herself, having presumably contracted the disease before the negro cook left.

The funeral over the remains of the late Samuel B. Alexander will take place today at 11 o'clock, and the body will be interred in Elmwood cemetery. Mr. Alexander's estate is valued at $150,000.

Dr. E. G. Guerrant, who is doing a great amount of missionary work among the mountains of the Appalachian system, gave one of the finest lectures last night in the way of reminiscence, dealing with the story of the late war, that has been heard here for a long while. In the discription of his first battle, of Morgan's raiders, and other war experiences, Dr. Guerrant was insurpassable.

Dr. Gverrant describes the people of the mountain region of Kentucky where his work is, as being not swearers, drunkards and thieves, but as having the most bloodthirsty and feud loving natures to be found in America.

PASTEUR TREATMENT APPLIED

A Family of Five Small Children Bitten by a Mad Dog.

Charlotte News.

Mr. J. M. Daniel and five children, all small, of Lowndsville, S. C., passed through Charlotte today on the noon train on their return from Baltimore where the children had been for twenty three days under treatment in the Pasteur department of the Johns Hopkins, for mad dog bite. The family owned a fice dog which went mad on the 13th day of January and bit all the children—four on the hand and one on the foot. Mr. Daniel killed the dog and sent its head on to the hospital to be examined. The cerebrum of the dog developed rabies in fourteen days. A ribbit was inoculated from the the dog and the five children from the rabbit. The treatment, Mr. Daniel said, was severe, consisting of hypodermic injections of the cerebrum of the rabbit. The children have not been sick, and Mr. Daniel does not feel uneasy in regard to them, now that they had the Pasteur treatment. The mother is living. The children all seemed in a good humor today. The smallest one is about three years old.

BLAIR FOR SUPERINTENDENT,

A Paper Brings Him Out and Urges His Claims.

Wilson News.

The democratic party needs on the state ticket this year for the office of superintendent of public instruction a genuine democrat, an earnest and enthusiastic public school man, an educated exponent of education, a man in touch and in sympathy with the educators of the state. It needs a man of force and character, one who can realize his vast opportunities for placing North Carolina on a higher educational plane. It needs a man like Prof John J. Blair, now at the head of the public schools of Wilmington. He is well known over the state, he has the confidence of the teachers, he is an originator and not a follower, and if he can be induced to accept the nomination he will add strength to the ticket, for wherever he is known John Blair is loved and respected.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. SCROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS
—CURED BY—
Johnston's Sarsaparilla
QUART BOTTLES.
A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York, came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abcesses were beginning to form. In at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not lok to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

"I am afraid that this is a very wicked world," said a well-known minister of the gospel with a smile. "My congregation was kind enough to offer me a vacation last fall, and I seized upon the opportunity to visit the little towns in the state where I was formerly located, and renew old acquaintances. At one of the towns I visited a country fair was being held, and I received an invitation to visit the grounds and perform a wedding that had been put forward as one of the leading attractions of the week. The business men of the place had contributed liberally toward wedding presents, which were to go to the first couple who would come forward and agree to be married on the grounds. A couple having volunteered, I was asked to perform the ceremony. I accepted the invitation and married them in the midst of a cheering crowd.

"A week later I was in another small town, and it so happened that a fair was in progress there too, and a wedding was the star attraction I chanced to visit the grounds during the day, and the minister who had been engaged to perform the ceremony failing to appear, I was called on to act in his place.

"When I faced the couple I was thunderstruck to find that they were the same people that I had married the week before. I was so surprised that I married them again without having time to think whether I was doing right or wrong.

"After the ceremony the groom got me to one side and asked me as a favor not to give him away, using his language. He said they made a business of going around country fairs getting married, and a word from me would spoil it all. He said further that they were going up in a balloon to be married the following week, and he would get me to do the 'job' if I wanted it. But I declined as politely as I could. I really think he was disappointed when I refused."

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remdy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. A Forgotten Countersign.

"War with raw recruits in the beginning is apt to lead to many amusing experiences," said the old army officer who saw service in Cuba. "Now, you couldn't ask for better soldiers than we had in Cuba, but a large number of them were new to the business and had much to learn, and, much to their credit, it can be said that they soon learned it.

"I had occasion to leave our lines one night soon after we arrived in Cuba, and upon my return it suddenly struck me that I had forgotten the countersign. I puzzled over it for some time, but for the life of me I couldn't recall the word that had been given out. While I was thinking it over I heard the command:

"'Halt! Who comes there?'

"'Friend,' I answered, thinking that the countersign would come to me in a moment.

"'Advance, friend, and give the countersign,' said the sentry.

"As the countersign had slipped from me completely I walked up to him and said sharply:

"'Call the corporal of the guard!'

"'Gosh,' answered the sentry, 'I knew it was something like that, but I'm derned if I hadn't forgotten it! Mosey on!'

"I 'mosied,' but I took the trouble to look up the corporal of the guard and have him give the sentry further instructions regarding the duties of a sentry."—Detroit Free Press.

Chinese Leather.

The process by which the Chinese leather acquires its peculiar characteristics is described as follows:

The skins are put into tubs containing water, saltpeter and salt and after 30 days are taken out, the hair is shaved off and the skins well washed in spring water. Each hide is then cut up into three pieces and well steamed, which is done by passing them several times backward and forward over a steaming oven. Further, each piece is stretched out separately over a flat board and secured with nails, so as to dry gradually and thoroughly in the sun. The smoke of the oven makes the leather black, and if it is desired to have it of a yellow appearance it is rubbed over with water in which the fruit of the so called wongchee tree has been soaked.

Of the offal glue is made by heating it in pans for 12 hours over a slow fire, and the glue so obtained is poured into rough earthen vessels, where it remains three days in order to coagulate. The solid mass is cut into pieces with sharp knives and carefully laid upon gratinglike trays to dry, the time taken in drying varying from 5 days, with a northwest wind, to 30 or 40 days with a southwest.—Boston Transcript.

Mrs Buggins—"It seems to me Mrs. Talkalot buys a great deal of soap." Mrs. Muggins—"Well, you know she's doubled-faced.

Nell—"I have to be awfully careful of my conversation before Harry" Belle—"Why, is he a prude?" Nell—"No but he's a proofreader."

A Mother's Duty

is to see to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, after the hair is thoroughly dry, some mild, health-giving tonic should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the

has stood at the apex of all shampoo washes, while the "HAIR GROWER" has been equally successful in its efforts to return the injured scalp and almost lifeless to their original healthfulness.

IN THE BABY'S EYES.

What is the dream in the baby's eyes
As he lies and blinks in a mute surprise,
With little wee hands that aimlessly go
Hither and thither and to and fro;
With little, wee feet that shall lead him? God knows,
But a prayer from my heart like a benison goes.
Bundle of helplessness, yonder he lies,
What is the dream in my baby's eyes?

What does he wonder and what does he know
That we have forgotten so long, long ago?
Bathed in the dawn light, what does he see
That slow years have hidden from you and me?
Out of the yesterday seeth he yet
The things that in living he soon shall forget,
All that is hidden beyond the blue skies.
What is the dream in my baby's eyes?

Speak to me, little one, ere you forget
What is the thought that is lingering there yet.
Where is the land where the yesterdays meet,
Waiting and waiting the morrows to greet?
You wee, funny bundle, who only will blink,
What do you wonder, and what do you think?
Bright as the moonlight asleep in the skies,
What is the dream in my baby's eyes?

NEVER ATE FOREIGN MEAT.

It Doesn't Pay to Be Too Sure Until One Knows All the Facts.

A certain Major Brownjones, who made it his boast that he never allowed American or colonial meat to be served at his table, recently visited an old comrade in Liverpool. One night at dinner a most delicious saddle of (apparently) Welsh mutton appeared, to which the major did ample justice.

"Ah," he observed, "I wish that my butcher in London would send me stuff like that, and yet he deals only in the best British meat."

"Well," said his friend, "as a matter of fact you have been eating New Zealand mutton. But it's only fair to say that I get it from a friend who is a large wholesale importer."

"By Jove, you don't say so!" exclaimed the guest. "I wish he'd tell me where I can get the like in town."

"We'll go and see him tomorrow," said the host. The visit was duly paid to the meat monger, who smiled when he heard the Londoner's eulogy and explanation.

"Tell me," he returned after listening to the epicure's remarks, "in what part of London you reside, and I dare say I can give you the address of a retail butcher who will supply you with exactly the same sort of mutton as that which you like so much." The major handed him his card.

"Ah," observed the importer, "there's the very man within two streets of your house. We supply him with all his meat. Here's his address," he added, handing a slip of paper to the seeker after succulent joints.

The major read, the major started, the major frowned, the major, truth to say, cried vengeance, and no wonder, for the address was that of his own butcher, who dealt only in home produce.—London Sketch.

The Bottle at Ship Launches.

Down to Charles II's time it was customary to name and baptize a ship after she was launched, sometimes a week or two after. The old Tudor method used for men-of-war was still in use, Pepys' "Diary" shows that. The ship was safely got afloat, after which some high personage went on board with a special silver "standing cup," or "dagon" of wine, out of which he drank, naming the ship and pouring a libation on the quarter deck. The cup was then generally given to the dockyard shipwright as a memento.

When did the present usage of naming and baptizing a ship before she is sent afloat come in? I trace the last explicit mention of the old method to 1664, when the Royal Katherine was launched (see Pepys). The first mention of smashing a bottle of wine on the bows of an English man-of-war that I have found is in a contemporary newspaper cutting of May, 1780, describing the christening of H. M. S. Magnanime at Deptford, but nothing is hinted that it was then a new custom. —Notes and Queries.

To Fly in Your Dreams.

There is a peculiarity about the flying dream that seems to be constant. Of all those whom I asked about the matter and who are conscious of the flying dream at all not one has ever known himself to make any high flights in his dreams. One always flies low, with a skimming manner, slightly, but only slightly, above the heads of pedestrians.

And one's critical attitude in a dream toward one's own performance is always interesting to note, both in regard to this particular class of dream and even more toward one of the other classes. It is an attitude that is well brought out in "Alice in Wonderland," where Alice is made to exclaim or to think while she is falling, "How brave they will all think it of me at home not to mind a great fall like this!"—Longman's.

Logical.

"What is a furrier, Tommy?" asked the teacher of a pupil in the juvenile class.

"A man who deals in furs," answered Tommy.

"That's right," said the teacher. "Now, Tommy, you may tell me what a currier is."

"A man who deals in curs," was the unexpected but logical reply.—Chicago News.

The Coldest Country.

The coldest inhabited country appears to be the province of Werchojansk, in oriental Siberia. A Russian savant passed one entire year in the inhospitable region and kept a daily record of the temperature, from which it appears that the daily mean of the entire year is 2.74 degrees below zero.

The first constitutional convention in Ohio contained as delegates five men who afterward were elected governor of the state and four who became United States senators.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E Holton's drug store.

Real Source of the Trouble.

Boston Herald.

A good many people whose names stand high up on New York's social list are going to be hit when it comes to raiding some of the gilded dens of vice in that town and holding their owners responsible for what has been going on in them. Doubtless this is where the rub comes in undertaking to tackle these places. It is not toughs who run them who want to be protected. It is higher up where the pressure comes.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Blobbs—"What do you think of the 'open door' in the East?" Slobbs (who had trouble with his night key last night)—"An open door is alright, and I don't care in what direction of the compass it points to."

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Indiana in the Next Election.

Boston Herald.

A development of the more recent days of our political history is that Indiana is beginning to be regarded as a doubtful state in the coming presidential election. This is an opinion not confined to democrats; republicans also are talking that way. The total vote of the two leading parties there in 1896 was 608,317, and there was a scattering vote to be added to it. There was a little less than 4 per cent. difference in the vote of the republicans and democrats. This is not a great amount to change, and it would be rash to say that it is not among the possibilities that it will be changed this year.

Crippled by Rheumatism.

Those who have Rheumatism find themselves growing steadily worse all the while. One reason of this is that the remedies prescribed by the doctors contain mercury and potash, which ultimately intensify the disease by causing the joints to swell and stiffen, producing a severe aching of the bones. S. S. S. has been curing Rheumatism for twenty years—even the worst cases which seemed almost incurable.

Capt. O. E. Hughes, the popular railroad conductor, of Columbia, S. C., had an experience with Rheumatism which convinced him that there is only one cure for that painful disease. He says: "I was a great sufferer from muscular Rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took about a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure that your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease."

Everybody knows that Rheumatism is a diseased state of the blood, and only a blood remedy is the only proper treatment, but a remedy containing potash and mercury only aggravates the trouble.

S.S.S. For The Blood

being Purely Vegetable, goes direct to the very cause of the disease and a permanent cure always results. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no potash, mercury or other dangerous minerals.

WOULD ROB GREENSBORO AND GIVE TO WINSTON.

Matter Comes Up Tomorrow in Washington Before Committees. Delegates Sent to Oppose it.

For some years the city of Winston has had a jealous eye on the federal court in this city, and has made several attempts to secure it, all of which so far, have failed. The latest move is for the establishment of a federal court in Winston, and to that effect Congressman Linney has introduced a bill in congress which comes up for a hearing before a congressional committee tomorrow at eleven o'clock in Washington. Winston already has an appropriation for a $65,000 building, and if Linney's bill gets through, the idea is to increase the appropriation and put up an adequate federal court house building. The Greensboro building is too small and has been abandoned as a court room, the federal courts here now being held in the county court house.

The scheme seems to be to rush Linney's bill through, along with the appropriation matter for Winston's building, kill the appropriation for the enlargement of the public building here, and then later show the government the folly of building a court house here when adequate accommodation for federal courts shall have been provided in Winston, only twenty-eight miles away. It is evidently a deep laid and shrewd scheme, and has for its ultimatum the stealthy and final taking away of Greensboro's federal court, brick by brick as it were.

The matter of the appropriations mentioned above also comes up tomorrow in Washington, according to advices from Mr. Kitchin, our representative. On both propositions this city is preparing to put up a stiff fight. The board of Aldermen met this morning and instructed Mayor Taylor and City Attorney Scales to represent the city on the part of the city government, while the Industrial and Imigration Association will be represented by Capt. J. W. Fry, president of the association, and Messrs. J. W. Scott and C. H Ireland. Messrs. R. R. King and R. D. Douglass, represent the legal fraternity. The above named gentlemen left on the noon train today, and others will go to night. It is expected that Postmaster Tyre Glenn will be among the number.

Since the above was written it is learned that Mayor Taylor cannot go, and Mr. A. L. Brooks goes in his stead. Mr. Ireland did not get off at noon but may go to night.

Smart Hens.

A Greensboro gentleman was telling a friend a few days ago about raising hens in town and getting plenty of fresh eggs every day. He gets, he says, about twenty-three eggs daily, and his friend asked him how many hens he had. He was not sure but thought there were eighteen. If his figures are correct he has some very smart hens. At any rate we must believe they are smart for the gentleman cannot be questioned as to truth.

ONE OF THE GREATEST OF MEN,

THAT IS MR. FIFE'S ESTIMATE OF REV. A. B. SIMPSON.

The Evangelist is Here to Attend the Convention and Speaks Glowingly of the Work Being Done.

The well known evangelist, W. P. Fife, came to the city this morning from Thomasville for the express purpose of attending the convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, now in session here. Mr. Fife has just returned to North Carolina from a northern trip, during which he held several meetings, the most successful ones having been at Carlisle and Newville, Pa. He is well acquainted with Rev. Mr. Simpson, the president of the Alliance, and thinks he is one of the most wonderful men he ever saw. "He has been a great help to me," said Mr. Fife, "and I wish I could be with him more." And then, in glowing enthusiasm the evangelist talked of the remarkable powers of Mr. Simpson and the wonderful work he is doing. He said.

"These bretheren are traveling over the south preaching on a deeper Christian life and trying to stir the people to a greater effort to evangelize the world and to get missionaries into every part of the globe. They are not fully understood in the south as they are in the north, where all the churches are open to them. They are not antagonizing any denomination, as the alliance is composed of members of all denominations, and those who contribute belong to various denominations, and all of them are deeply spiritual people.

"Rev. Mr. Simpson, the president, is a powerful man, so is Mr. Le Lacheur. After having heard the leading men of both Europe and America, I unhesitatingly pronounce these two the most spiritual men I have ever heard. They preach Christ for the body as well as for the soul, that is, he is Christ as savior, sanctifier, healer and coming Lord. They stand for the faith as it was once for all delivered to the saints. They have nothing to do with the isms of the day nor the extremists.

"Mr. Simpson is today the only man who is touching the entire world from a missionary point. It is wonderful how he has put men in fields that are closed to all others. To my personal knowledge he is the hardest worked man in America, writing books and tracts, preaching and collecting money. He is a modern John Wesley and John Knox. He was an invalid and a Presbyterian minister and often, when going into his pulpit, had no assurance that he would come out alive. The best physicians in New York gave him up. He put himself in God's hands with the result that he is today as large and strong as I am.

"He collects more money for missions than any man in America. I have been in congregations with him when he raised from $55,000 to $75,000, and not wealthy congregations either. At one time he collected $120,000 in New York. He has a missionary training school in Nyack in which young men are especially trained for foreign fields."

Mr. Fife advises all his friends and christian people generally to attend the meetings. He says a number of people from Winston and Durham will attend. Mrs. Fife will join her husband here tonight.

TOBACCO MEN IN TOWN.

A Number Accompany Mr Ferrell to the Hospital—Dined by Mr. Bray.

Mr. W. L. Ferrell, of Winston, who was buyer on this market last year for the American Tobacco Co., and was taken sick here last August, has never fully recovered. He is suffering now with nervousness for which he has gone to Baltimore to be treated. He came down from Winston last night, accompanied by his father, Mr. J. T. Ferrell, of Durham, Mr. Rice Gwynn, buyer for the American Tobacco Co. at Winston, Mr. W. C. Bradsher, buyer for Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Co. at Durham, and Mr. J. E. Hughes, of Hughes & Co., Danville, Va. These men were joined here by Mr. T. J. Walker, of Richmond, Va., and W. R. Israel, of Danville, both buyers for the American Tobacco Company.

The entire party was met here by our Mr. C. A. Bray, the hustling tobacconist, and taken to Hotel Clegg, where they were highly entertained and feasted on the delicacies of the season. Mr. Ferrell left at 11:44 for Baltimore, where he will enter a hospital for treatment. He was in excellent spirits when he left, and was accompanied by Mr. Walker and Mr. Bradsher.

Putting in Baths.

The barber shop in S. L. & T. Co. building proposes to be up to date. The proprietors are putting in three tubs and one shower bath. Plumbing is now being done, and when equipped with baths the W. & N will be the only barber shop in town where you can get "washings" as well as "hair cuttings and shavings." The enterprise of Messrs. White & Nicholson will be appreciated.

The Next Attraction.

The ballad singing of Miss Helen Wrenn was a very pleasing feature of the program, and we hope to hear the lady in something more pretentious at a subsequent concert, when she may have an opportunity to display the range of her splendid voice in oratorio or operatic selections. Her ballad singing is certainly all that could be desired.—Janesville (Ohio) Signal.

Mr. Van Noppen the Victor.

In the public debate in Durham last night, Mr. Chas. L. Van Noppen, of this city, outclassed his opponent, Prof. Albert Whitehouse. The Durham Herald quotes from both speeches and closes with the following paragraphs:

"Mr. Van Noppen's speech was a resume of the history of the Dutch in South Africa, delivered in such language as was a terrible arraignment of the British government, and elicited frequent deserved applause.

"It was simply a one-sided debate. The Englishman "wasn't in it" from start to finish, but had the manhood to acknowledge that he was out-talked by his Dutch cousin. He was applauded for this admission."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
